Damn...Taylor Swift is big pimpin'! Swift just bought a mansion in Rhode Island for a cool $17 million and the former Kanye West victim paid cold, hard cash! Sing that country music white girl!

Is it just me or is Kim Kardashian beginning to look a lot like the Octomom?

It's freaky weird, like her lips are swelling up and the whole nine. Maybe she's carrying some Kanyeuplets.

What's up with the CBS blogger that actually had the nerve to call OKC Kelsey Williams chubby? If she's to chubby to cheer then I'm too fat to fuck and so is he...WTF!

For those of you who don't know, ya' boy Jay-Z and B made the questionable choice to "vacation" in Cuba. I would like to share with you a portion of an open letter to Jay from a Cuban director Phil Lord.

He likely doesn't know that the Cuban tourism industry is run by the Cuban military, so when he spends money at an officially sanctioned hotel, or restaurant, he is directly funding the oppressors of the Cuban people.

He doesn't know that most Cubans have poor access to independent news sources, the internet, books, and food.

He doesn't know that Cuba has two health systems, one for the well-connected, and one for everyone else.

He doesn't know that before Castro, the Cuban peso traded one-to-one with the dollar, and that since then, the Castros have raided the nation's coffers and introduced widespread poverty to a once prosperous nation.

He doesn't know that my ancestors fought to free Cuba from Spain, and to set up a democracy to ensure that they would always be free.

He doesn't know that in spite of those dreams, my mother and her family fled for their lives from this regime way back in 1960, as did two million other Cubans.

Heather Elizabeth Morris

Yes, she is best known for her role as the goofy cheerleader Brittany S. Pierce on the hit television show Glee but like a number of starlets from today's movies and television she will also be known for taking it all off for the "private" camera and posting those photos to the web for the whole wide world to see.

If you have a few minutes with nothing to do, search Heather Elizabeth Morris nude to see the full compliment of photos!

The Hangover III

'The Hangover Part III' is the third and final film in director Todd Phillips' record-shattering comedy franchise. This time, there's no wedding. No bachelor party. What could go wrong, right? But when the Wolfpack hits the road, all bets are off.

Mud

Mud is a fugitive who becomes friends with Arkansas teenagers Ellis and Neckbone. The fugitive attempts to reunite with his love Juniper, and the teenagers help him evade the authorities.

Venus and Serena

Venus and Serena takes an unfiltered look into the remarkable lives of the greatest sister-act professional tennis has ever seen. In a sport where they were not welcomed, the indomitable Williams sisters faced the opposition with grace and courage, breaking new ground.

Bully

The documentary follows students from public schools in Georgia, Iowa, Texas, Mississippi and Oklahoma during the 2009–10 school year; it also follows the students families. The film's particular focus is on the deaths of Tyler Long and Ty Smalley, victims of bullying who committed suicide. The film describes in great detail how the average American student cannot defend himself or herself against ridicule.

EMELI SANDE' ITUNES SESSION

Look out Adele or at least make a little room for the next English sensation. Emeli Sande, whose first name just happens to be Adele, has made a little noise over in the UK but not enough to really cross the pond...yet. Her album Our version of Events was the top selling album in the UK in 2012 with more than 1 million sales. The beauty in the iTunes Sessions can be summed up in one word...simplicity! It's nice to hear an artist today that uses music in song for what it was meant to be...accompaniment! What's left is a just a beautiful voice singing to guitar and piano in seven sensational tracks.

TFM's overall rating - 3.50 (out of 4).

Like so many of you, as I rang in the New Year, I was also looking for a way to lose a few pounds in 2013. My problem was, I really like to drink beer. I usually stick with a light beer but I knew that my calorie intake was out of control. I went online and literally looked for a program that would help me lose weight without having to watch every single thing I eat OR DRINK but most importantly it had to be free. I found Lose it! Lose it is an app that counts your calories for you. It has an incredible list of just about everything you can possibly eat, even fast food. It also has the number of calories burned during exercise. To date, I have lost 14 lbs. which is why I'm recommending it to you.

Freaky Weird & Incredibly Unusual News

A MUGSHOT of a woman has gone viral, prompting declarations of love from across the world and even marriage proposals.

Yet the mugshot of the "attractive convict", arrested for allegedly drink driving, is not a model or actress as people presumed. It's a mother-of-four, who is a medical assistant, from Florida, US.

Meagan McCullough, 27, was arrested for DUI in July 2010 leading to her mugshot being taken in an orange jumpsuit. Her natural good looks meant yesterday, three years on, it caught the attention of the sharing website Reddit and soon spread around the internet like wildfire, MailOnline reported.

The Clinton/Bush America

Have you ever sat and wondered why Wall St. is out of control or why we seem to be jumping from one military conflict to the next with what seems to be a complete disregard for loss of life?

Have you asked why most of your neighborhood is empty because your neighbors are victims of foreclosure?

Welcome to the Clinton/Bush America!

A number of the liberal media talking heads and politicians like to drill it into our heads that our current POTUS is cleaning up the mess that George W. left but let me be the first to tell you that the wheels to this economic hell began to turn years before George took office.

Bill Clinton has become known for low unemployment rates, low inflation, low crime rates and a budget surplus. For our conservative readers, he did more than just get a blowjob from an intern and sexually harassed co-workers.

What the media fails to mention is it was Clinton that opened the doors wide open for Wall St. and the banks. It was Clinton's failure to regulate the financial markets that led to bad lending and Wall St. corruption that cause the housing crisis.

In 1933 Congress passed the Banking Act of 1933. This Act limited the commercial banking activities and the affiliation between banks and security firms.

It was Clinton's connection with Smith Barney that caused him to announce publicly that the Act was "no longer appropriate." It was the repeal of the Act that caused the financial crisis and without question an enormous shift in wealth in the United States.

In 1998, the top 1% controlled 38% of the wealth in the United States. In 2012, the top 1% is 288 times wealthier than the average US household. What's really sickening is productivity in the US is at an all-time high while wages have remained stagnant.

In other words, we are working our asses off for less money because the corporations have found a new way to boost profits. They earn most of the cash from the unregulated markets! That said, they can keep employment low, with maximum productivity, high wages and high profits that keep their stockholders happy.

The fact that Bill Clinton appeared in an ad last year, blaming republicans for deregulation, stating that it was "what got us in trouble in the first place," is laughable.

Then along comes Bush with the dysfunctional republican free market philosophy and...if it ain't broke, why try to fix it?

The free markets enjoyed their freedom until the government realized that many of the fat cats had gorged themselves on a steady diet of ill-gained profits to the point of near collapse.

That's when we (taxpayers) stepped in and bailed them out.

With all the madness and mayhem you would think that someone would have stepped in and fixed it, right?

To this day, the problem has not been fixed.

Neither Bush nor Obama has made a serious attempt to regulate the broken system.

While the country was bleeding cash, the Bush administration came up with a great idea to get the country back on track.

In early American history, it was war that usually gave American the shot in the financial arm that it needed.

World War I caused a temporary boost in the economy but it was followed by the Great Depression and World War II has been described as an economic stimulus on steroids! Though the loss of life was tragic, those who stayed at home were working and purchasing American products with their wages.

What better way to boost the economy than to incorporate the Bush Doctrine and declare war on a faceless enemy. After 9/11 it seemed like a good idea. However, is it really possible to defeat an enemy that could be anybody?

In retrospect, is it possible to defeat terror by killing suspected terrorist? Wouldn't that just create more terrorist? Can you imagine the emotions that are festering deep inside the souls of the friends and family members of the "terrorist" that have been killed or imprisoned by US troops? I know that as an American, I really shouldn't give a shit how they feel but my gut feeling is this is a problem that is crying for diplomacy not death.

That lack of diplomacy has left our military playing a cruel game of cat and mouse with no end in sight. The cost in human life in addition to our economy has been devastating. Unlike World War II this war has been outsourced just like many other jobs in the US.

Welcome to the Clinton/Bush America!

Have the Republicans given up?

I'm watching the 2013 NRA convention that was held in Houston, TX on May 3rd through the 5th.

They had the usual host of failed republican guest speakers. Failed vice-presidential candidate Sarah Palin, failed presidential candidates Rick Perry and Rick Santorum. They closed with perhaps the least patriotic person on the planet Ted (if Obama is re-elected I will either be dead or in jail) Nugent.

It didn't take a degree in rocket science to figure out that the NRA was just recreating a smaller version of the republican convention held August 2012.

Since that convention and election was held and America said NO to the whole lot of them.

The most shocking thing about the NRA convention was the new president telling the crowd that they were no longer fighting for gun rights, they were fighting a "culture war!"

A culture war? Really?

The National Rifle Association began as an organization that taught marksmanship and gun safety. They were employed at the Boy Scouts of America summer camps for God's sake!

And now, they want to fight a culture war!

In America, a culture war can be defined as a conflict between conservative and liberal values. So, since the speakers at the NRA convention were republican aka conservatives, are they planning an all out war against liberals.

Upon hearing this, I had one question come to mind...What are these people going to do when America elects a white republican president back into office?

With this announcement from the NRA, coupled with the support of some of the “bigger” names in the republican party, they have left no room for moderate or independent voters to jump on board.

This is just one example of a huge number of missteps that members of the republican party have taken since vowing to become a party that is more palatable to moderates.

Here’s just a few from the republican crazy pages:

- After the Boston bombings, New Hampshire State legislator Stella Tremblay posted on Glenn Beck’s Facebook page - “The Boston Marathon was a Black Ops ‘terrorist’ attack,” she wrote. “One suspect killed, the other one will be too before they even have a chance to speak. Drones and now ‘terrorist’ attacks by our own Government. Sad day, but a ‘wake up’ to all of us.”
- In North Carolina, conservative state law-makers decided to push forward a clearly unconstitutional bill to allow the state “to declare an official religion, in violation of the Establishment Clause of the U.S. Bill of Rights, and seeks to nullify any federal ruling against Christian prayer by public bodies statewide,” in the words of local station WRAL. When one of the sponsoring law-makers, Michele Presnell, was asked if she would be comfortable with a Muslim prayer to Allah before a public meeting, according to the Raleigh News and Observer, she replied, “No, I do not condone terrorism.”

- Congressman Louie Gohmert couldn’t resist telling WND radio that, “This (Obama) administration has so many Muslim Brotherhood members that have influence that they just are making wrong decisions for America.”
- Republicans Jim Jordan of Ohio and Jason Chaffetz of Utah held a hearing “to examine the procurement of ammunition by the Department of Homeland Security and Social Security Administration Office of Inspector General.”

This was based on a false conspiracy theory that can be found on an online blog. This was a right-wing conspiracy theory that states the Department of Homeland Security is stockpiling ammo to attack Americans and impose martial law in this country.

It wasn’t the first time the republican party was caught getting their information from a blog. During the Benghazi hearings...

- After informing Secretary Clinton that he would have fired her for her role in the response to the attack, Paul came seemingly out of nowhere to ask Clinton about Turkey. “Is the U.S. involved with any procuring of weapons, transfer of weapons, buying, selling, anyhow transferring weapons to Turkey out of Libya?” he asked.

This question came from a Glenn Beck inspired conspiracy theory that has appeared on a number of right-wing websites.

These right-wing theories have made their way into published articles by The Daily Beast and into the airwaves via the propaganda network Fox News.

One of the most chilling conspiracy theories that actually effected the republican vote...

- The defeat of the universal background check bill—specifically the widespread claims that closing existing loopholes would be a first step toward a national gun registry that would in turn bring Hitler-style confiscation to America. That, of course, would in turn lead to martial law, as former Arkansas governor and 2008 Republican presidential candidate Mike Huckabee explicitly claimed on his radio show. Never mind that the bill explicitly made it a criminal offense to make any such list—fear-fueled hyperpartisan narratives clearly outweighed the facts.
- There was a claim by republican Congressman Jeff Duncan during a budget hearing for the Department of Homeland Security that the Obama administration was deporting a person that was on the scene at the Boston bombings. Janet Napolitano - Secretary of Homeland Security, refused to answer the Congressman's question stating that it was so full of misstatements that it wasn't relevant.

This too came from Glenn Beck! Glenn Beck claimed to know who the person who was being deported and on Friday April 19th, he warned that the administration had until Monday to come clean or he was going to expose who he was and why the Obama administration was trying to hide him. Monday came and went...there was no additional information from Glenn Beck or his staff.

- Mike Huckabee told his listeners during his radio show that the events in Benghazi would lead to President Obama not completing his full second term.

There was also Rand Paul's epic failure to give the students of Howard University a history lesson of the accomplishments of the republican as it concerns minorities in this country.

Note to Rand Paul: Everyone knows that the republican's helped found the NAACP, Abraham Lincoln "freed the slaves" and a republican president called in the National Guard to assist in the desegregation of schools in Little Rock.

In today's America the GOP, who has all but lost the growing minority vote, seem to be hell bent on demolishing, destroying, crushing, abolishing, obliterating, annihilating and completely wiping out any hopes that they will ever get another moderate/independent vote again!

Has the republican party given up all hope of holding the highest country in the land?

Have they turned politics into a sporting event where they count on their hardcore fans to turn out for every game despite their record? They go out everyday, play their game and hope they will be conservafabulous enough to be featured on Fox News like SportsCenter's Top 10!

It's all about the sound bytes baby, it's all about the sound bytes!

The republican party has made an MAJOR effort to support cuts to unemployment, social security and a number of other programs that the media would have you believe are essential to minorities in this country.

Funny thing about being the "majority" race...if there are 100,000 people that are benefitting from these programs...65,000+ are white.

It seems that they are unknowingly doing EVERYTHING they can to lose every election for a very long time!

But they haven't given up!

I'm sure that when you were a kid, you at some time played a game with a friend. You agreed on the game and in some cases when there weren't a clear set of rules, you agreed to how the game would be played and the rules you would follow. I'm sure that I'm not the ONLY person in the world that had a friend TRY to change the rules in the middle of the game if they were losing.

That's what the GOP is doing!

After the last presidential election, the GOP came clean. They said that they wanted to attract more minorities...well, some did. Too many of the Fox News assholes refused to pull their head from their asses and blamed their loss on a national need for government assistance. Even LOSER Mitt Romney claimed that Obama had just made too many promises that American minorities would be able to sit on their ass and live comfortably on welfare check and food stamps as long as he was in office...as if!

As it became obvious that there was no way in the hell the GOP was going to actually change...not in the Fox News/Limbaugh era, they decided to do what your childhood friend did when the thought of losing slapped them in the face...they changed the rules.

The Supreme Court - who no longer deserve that title - will be taking a good look at the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Supreme Asshole Antonin Scalia has already stated that the voting rights Act is a form of embedded racial preferment.

The Supreme Court, as I'm sure you know, is dominated by conservatives.

Back to the GOP not giving up...

The one thing that has not been given enough coverage is that in the last election the republicans should have lost the House. It was only through the gerrymandering of districts that allowed certain Congressmen/women to hold their seats despite a million votes that were a clear indication that they shouldn't have.

When asked about the resounding loss, the GOP was quick to mention that they had held the house...which was just absurd!

Here's a conspiracy theory for ya'... Did anonymous actual stop Romney from winning the White House? Hmmm...

So if you can't depend on rigging the electronic machines the American people vote with, what is your next step?

Raise taxes for the parents of college students if they register to vote where they are attending school?

Pass bogus voter ID laws?

Go with a proof of citizenship law?

Reduce early voting days and hours?

Or have the Supreme Court just scrap the whole damn thing by eliminating that Voting Rights Act?

It's a really scary game that the GOP is playing. If it backfires in their face it could impact their ability to win elections, any election, for generations.

Of course, they have left another option on the table. They could just gather up their NRA sponsored militia and kill all the liberals.

At this point, I wouldn't put it past them.

Jack Watson's Complete Guide To Creating

Black and White
Female
Glamour
Images From Nudes To Fashion

By Jack Watson

Books by Jack Watson

Award-winning photographer Jack Watson has crafted a unique book dedicated to female glamour images created in black and white to honor the famous Hollywood stills photographers of the 1920's and 30's. With the help of a large collection of stunning glamour models who have been featured globally in many print, web, and video media including Playboy Enterprises™, Watson shows you how he creates sensuous, seductive glamour black and white images out of virtually any color glamour photograph. Dispelling the myth that not all color images make good black and white images, this book illustrates how virtually any glamour photo to create the look of the Hollywood masters.

Jack Watson's Complete Guide to Creating Black and White Female Glamour Images includes a CD with every photo in the book. All of the black and white photos started out as color digital files. They have been provided in their original color form for your unrestricted non-commercial use. This book is for those who have some basic Photoshop skills and want to broaden their horizons and experiment with additional plug-ins and software such as Nik Color Efex Pro Complete, Nik Silver Efex Pro, Topaz Adjust, and Topaz BW Effects. It's also for anyone who just loves looking at beautiful black and white female glamour images.

While most of the images in the book are "sexy" in nature, a number of examples show how sexy is not always the naked truth, but quite the contrary. Clothed or nude, the female form is a thing of beauty. At the very least, this book will make you rethink what is truly glamorous. Creating black and white glamour photos will help you see with your brain and feel with your heart. Remember it's not what you see in a photograph that moves you; it's what you don't see. So, boot up your computer, open your favorite photo software, and put the CD in the drive, and create some magic.

On little Larry's first day of first grade, he raised his hand as soon as the teacher came into the room and said, 'I don't belong here, I should be in third grade!'

The teacher looked at little Larry's records and told him to please take his seat.

Not five minutes passed when little Larry stood up again and said, 'I don't belong here, I should be in the third grade!'

Larry did this a few more times before the principal came along and the teacher explained Larry's problem. The principal and the first grade teacher told little Larry that if he could answer some questions that they could decide in which grade he belonged. Well, they soon discovered that Larry knew all the state capitals and country capitals that the principal could think of.

The teacher suggested they try some biology questions... 'What does a cow have 4 of but a woman has only 2?' asked the teacher.

'Legs!' Larry immediately replied. "What does a man have in his pants that a woman doesn't?" asked the teacher.

'Pockets!' said Larry.

The teacher looked at the principal, who said, 'Maybe he should be in third grade, I missed those last two questions!'

A bloke is sat at a bar when he sees this gorgeous woman waiting for her date. He decides to go over and chat her up.

'I think you're wasting your time, I'm only interested in women' said the woman.

'Oh come on, I bet I can change your mind' said the bloke. After ten minutes of the bloke pestering her, she had had enough.

'OK' said the woman 'I'll sleep with you if you can do anything for me that my vibrator can't!'

'OK, barman get this lady a drink' he said. 'let's see your vibrator do that?'

What should you do if you girlfriend starts smoking?

Slow down and use a lubricant.

What's six inches long, two inches wide, and drives women wild?

Money.

What's the difference between a pick pocket and a peeping Tom?

A pick pocket snatches watches.

A full-body photograph of a woman with long dark hair, wearing black lace-trimmed underwear and fishnet stockings. She is holding a glass of red wine in her right hand and has her left hand near her chest. She is standing in a room with a light-colored paneled door behind her and a window with white blinds to her right. The lighting is soft and warm, creating a sensual atmosphere.

HONEY WEST PRESENTS

MY FAVORITE THREEWAY

Is your hottest wet dream to have a threeway with sexy pornstars? Hmmm? Mine too! Unfortunately, I've never had the pleasure of being in an actual 3way romp with iconic pornstars Kylie Ireland, Raylene and Derrick Pierce, but luckily for us mere mortals, the next best thing is catching their hilarious and politically incorrect radio show, the "Wednesday Night 3way", airing on the podcast Toad Hop Network.

As one of their legion of avid fans, I loved the previous version of this show which aired on Playboy Radio for two years as the "FridayNite3Way". I never missed a show and was seriously disappointed when it went off the air - a hidden gem among many adult talk shows out there. The fans loudly demanded a return to the airwaves and now the "3Way" has found a new home on the dynamic and innovative Toad Hop Network based in Hollywood which carries a variety of shows. . It's my Number One choice to wind down after a stressful day, just kick back, relax, and enjoy..... and hey, I even learn a few things, too!

Not only are these three porn hosts bangin hot and "lol" funny, you can you download current or archived shows any time, 24/7. You can also watch the show in streaming video. Toad Hop Network's motto: RADIO WORTH WATCHING.

With bodacious women like Kylie and Raylene showing off their sizzlin cleve, watching is absolutely mandatory! The naughty wit of fiery redhead porn veteran Kylie Ireland is featured along with the crazy personal and professional porn adventures of award-winning (and dirty girl!) sultry pornstar Raylene.

The sexy threesome is complete with the male side of the equation, hunky stud Derrick Pierce. There's no membership fee or requirement to subscribe. It's 100% free entertainment, night or day.

Very few topics are off limits or taboo - best of all, their "3way" chemistry is a natural, making the show a uniquely enjoyable hour-long talkfest that always flies by way too fast.

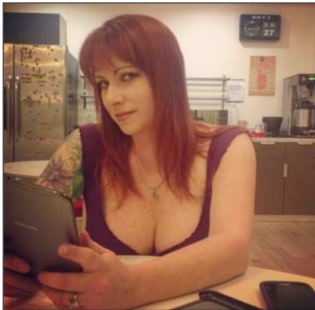

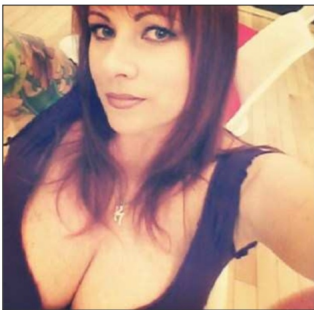

REGULAR FEATURES INCLUDE:

WHAT THE FUCK? - The Threesome discuss those "WTF" moments that particularly annoy the f outta them during the week!

DEFENDING MANKIND - Derrick's hilariously difficult task as a guy trying to defend the testosterone-laden behaviors of men that drive their women insane!

IN THE NEWS - Grabbed from the headlines, they talk about the crazy, wack things going on in the world that make them ask: WTF?

Kylie was nice enough to allow me to share some in studio "behind the scenes" pics from the show! Thanks babe!

Classic naughty Kylie!

Kylie and Raylene snowballin!

Derrick Pierce working hard to Defend Mankind

I must admit, Derrick is my personal fave - I started his online fansite in 2009 because we ladies in the audience deserve some eye candy, too! But he's not just a "pretty boy" who fucks women like a demon on camera, he's a talented radio personality who keeps the show fast-paced, sharing cazzzzzzzy stories about his wild experiences in the porn industry and his equally horny personal life off the set!

Here's what Toad Hop Network says about the "3Way": :

"Snarky, sexy and politically incorrect, The Wednesday Night 3way will quickly become your favorite guilty pleasure. Legendary adult performers Kylie Ireland, Raylene and Derrick Pierce discuss life, love, world events and the pursuit of carnal knowledge. Expect outrageous stories, epic rants, inflated opinions and things that would horrify your mother."

Currently, WednesdayNite3Way is looking for advertisers to offset the costs of producing the show, to keep it free for listeners. In the meantime, all previously recorded shows (10) are available for your instant listening and viewing pleasure at...
